School Newsletter

Dear Parents and Carers,

What an exciting week it has been!

Years 1 and 2 visited Science Oxford for an engaging and educational trip into the world of Science. While on the Junior site, Years 5 and 6 were busy being experimental chefs making sweet and savoury hot cross buns. The school smelt delicious.

Another exciting event was the Science Week Learning Log Homework exhibitions (photos to follow on website). Years 1 to 6 took part and have created some amazing, innovative pieces. Judging was incredibly difficult with examples ranging from time machines to fossils – the winners from each year group will be announced on Thursday.

We were very sad to say goodbye to Miss Sharon today who has provided Friday lunchtime dance club for many years. We also want to thank everyone in advance who is able to come along to the Infant site in the morning to join in with a big F4CADS tidy. This is really appreciated.

Easter Reading Challenge

Next week the children will be told about, and receiving an EasterReadingChallenge. Reading for pleasure is so important and we want to encourage the children to enjoy reading a range of texts and genres. Reading for pleasure helps to develop children's language, imagination and creativity. Over the holidays, we would like the children to take part and record what they have read on a grid -listing the title of the book and author, or title of a comic or magazine- e.g. National Geographic magazine. Every child that returns their EasterReadingChallenge grid will receive a certificate.

We are also asking for children to enter a photo for 'Reading in an interesting place' and the staff will all vote on the photos and decide on a winner for the infant site and a winner for the junior site. The winners will be presented with a small prize. Please ensure that the children are reading in safe places. These photos will be displayed in school. Grids and photos need to be received by 19th April.
